

CBS NEWS ARCHIVES

CBS News Video Archive

Historical news archival programming, many available for the first time since their original broadcast dates

For the first time ever, nearly six decades of flagship news programming is available in one expansive streaming video resource. The CBS News Video Archive collection from ProQuest, a part of Clarivate, grants unprecedented access to the CBS News archives from 1950s-2010s, including programs never before available for distribution, since their original broadcast dates.

Ideal for courses in history, media studies, journalism, and social sciences.
