The Docuseek2 Collection™ contains more than 1,200 exclusive documentaries for higher education, from leading film producers and distributors, including Australian Broadcasting Corporation, the BBC, Bullfrog Films, CBC, Television Trust for the Environment, Icarus Films, National Film Board of Canada, and independent producers from around the world.

Featured distributors

Bullfrog Films is the oldest and largest publisher of films about the environment in the United States. Founded in 1973, its goal is to bring together programs that point the way to a new paradigm for living happily, healthily, and sustainably. Bullfrog's major films are now streamed on the Alexander Street platform — over 300 and growing.

Collective Eye Films represents compelling documentaries that explore the untold stories of our time. Its films build bridges between cultures, provide unique perspectives by exploring social, political, environmental, and spiritual issues, and bring provocative and entertaining stories to the screen.

dGenerate Films is the leading distributor of contemporary independent films from mainland China for audiences worldwide.

Fanlight focuses on healthcare, mental health, professional ethics, aging and gerontology, disabilities and the workplace, and gender and family issues.

Icarus Films has delivered top quality films about political, social, and cultural issues since 1978. All of Icarus's major films are now streamed on the Alexander Street platform — over 300 and growing.

Kartemquin is a collaborative center for documentary media makers. The organization has won every major critical and journalistic prize, including multiple Emmy, Peabody, duPont-Columbia and Robert F. Kennedy journalism awards, Independent Spirit, IDA, PGA and DGA awards, and an Oscar nomination.

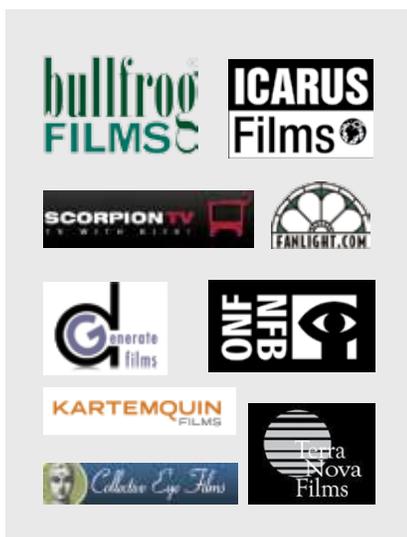

The National Film Board of Canada is now 75 years old and one of the world's great documentary and animation incubators. The National Film Board has worked with a diverse group of filmmakers to produce groundbreaking and heartfelt cinema, and The Docuseek2 Collection includes a sampling of NFB's best work.
