History & Social Change

BLACK HISTORY

History Vault: Reverend. J.H. Jackson and the National Baptist Convention, 1900–1990

NEW! The Reverend Joseph H. Jackson was the longest-serving president of the National Baptist Convention, serving in that role from 1953–1982, and pastor at Olivet Baptist Church on Chicago's South Side from 1941 until his death in 1990. During his presidency of the National Baptist Convention, at the height of the civil rights movement in the 1950s and 1960s, Jackson spoke about the importance of loyalty to the federal government and emphasized the ballot as the strongest weapon in obtaining civil rights. Jackson's stance put him in conflict with other Baptist leaders, including Martin Luther King, Jr., who favored nonviolent civil disobedience to achieve civil rights reforms. The Jackson Papers span from 1889–2003 but focus on the period from 1950–1990. A major series of National Baptist Convention records includes Jackson's correspondence during his time as the organization's president, minutes of meetings, Jackson's annual addresses to the National Baptist Convention, and some of his writings on civil rights and civil disobedience. The collection also includes a major series of Jackson sermons from 1928–1988, and personal records focused on his years as a graduate student from 1925–1945.

CULTURAL HISTORY

Entertainment Industry Magazine Archive Collection 5: Video Gaming

NEW! The fifth module of the Entertainment Industry Magazine Archive comprises the backfiles of more than 50 magazines devoted to computer and video gaming. The publications span the history of gaming, from the early 1980s to 2020, and a wide variety of platforms/consoles; they are vital primary sources through which researchers can derive insights into the history of game design, marketing, consumption, and more. As well as supporting the growing research area of gaming studies itself, this collection will provide valuable content for researchers in broader and adjacent fields such as 20th-century popular culture, arts, technology, and communication studies. Publications are digitized in color page-image format, with article-level metadata and searchable text. Coverage is from the first issue through to 2020, with issues scanned from cover to cover.

The VIBE Archive

COMING IN Q1 2023! This archive consists of the full run of VIBE magazine, the U.S. magazine of record for hip-hop culture from 1993–2014. Founded by Quincy Jones, VIBE not only offered influential reporting and news about rap, hip-hop, and R&B music but more broadly represented the associated urban youth culture. It is renowned for its pioneering role in establishing mainstream coverage of this culture and for raising the profile of many major hip-hop and R&B artists.

The House Beautiful Archive

COMING IN Q2 2023! The archive of the US edition of House Beautiful, from its first issue in 1896 to the present. The oldest still-published US shelter magazine, House Beautiful not only records the history of interior design, but demonstrates how broader social and cultural trends — e.g. women's roles, family life, new technologies, and consumer behavior — have manifested themselves in domestic settings for over 125 years.

Children's Periodicals

COMING IN Q3 2023! This collection comprises a variety of 20th-century serials covering many aspects of children's lives and interests. These include titles focusing on education, entertainment/literature, news, and religion/moral development. As well as shedding light on the history of childhood and family life during this period, these titles will provide alternative perspectives in the study of 20th-century advertising/marketing, popular culture, education, media, and print culture. Major titles include Sesame Street Magazine, Look and Learn, The Children's Newspaper, and Boy's Own Paper.

EARLY MODERN HISTORY

Early European Books, Collection 21: Peace and Governance

NEW! Drawn from four partner libraries in Europe, this collection features books, pamphlets and other shorter documents totaling over 5000 items and circa 250,000 pages. The early modern period was marked by tremendous social upheaval and recurrent warfare, including the Dutch Revolt, the English Civil War, and the Europe-wide Thirty Years' War. This collection charts the rise and fall of European conflicts through history chronicles, personal accounts and peace treaties. It includes larger works on jurisprudence such as the works of notable legislators and legal theorists that gather contemporary ideas of governance with the articulation of actual policy.

+ PRODUCT UPDATES

Early English Books Online (2022 Content Update )

NEW! The 2022 annual update includes Wing 146 and approx. 350 titles. The titles published between 1640 and 1700, cover a period in British history that saw shockwaves reach as far as Europe.

Charles I was executed in 1649, but before this momentous historical event, the document "farevvell-speech unto the Lords Commissioners" (1648) hints at his increasing isolation. A King and No King is a Jacobean era stage play by Beaumont and Fletcher and was first published in 1619. However, the play re-emerged in 1687 as it was used repeatedly in the polemical literature of the mid-century political crisis to refer to the problem and predicament of King Charles I.

The restoration period in 1660, saw the return of monarchy in Charles II. In this period, we see works such as The Poor Whores' Petition. This was a satirical letter written by brothel owner Madam Cresswell, whose business was affected by the Bawdy House Riots of 1668. The petition was addressed to Lady Castlemaine, then lover of King Charles II of England. It requested that she come to the aid of her "sisters" and pay for the rebuilding of their property and livelihoods.

This release provides many more insights such as these, at a time when old forms of monarchy were being challenged and modernized whilst being held to account from different layers of society.

Early European Books, Collection 22: Pastimes in Early Modern France

COMING IN Q2 2023! The culture of France is eclectically represented in this collection as it covers pastimes and recreation, classical works, travel guides, dictionaries, vocabularies, phrase books, instruction in foreign languages and winemaking. This will be the last French collection from the BnF.

Early European Books, Collection 23: Education, Society and Cultural Life

COMING IN Q3 2023! This collection will include items from across Northern Europe that were important educational texts as well as insights into cultural life. Works cover music, culinary arts, philosophical works, heraldic works, and genealogies.

HISTORICAL PERIODICALS

Colonial Legacies: Empire and Commonwealth Periodicals

NEW! This digital archive comprises of over 30 periodicals and approximately 800,000 pages. This collection offers a mixture of British publications about the Empire and titles published in Commonwealth countries (including Australia, New Zealand, India, Canada, and Papua New Guinea). It will support research in key events in colonial history, including the later phase of the Scramble for Africa, the world wars, independence movements, the creation of the Commonwealth, and more. While official publications contain valuable information about colonial administration and ideology, more popular titles, covering the arts, society, and general interests, provide insights into the broader history and culture of former colonies.

Socialist & Radical Periodicals

COMING IN Q4 2023! Published in the 20th century, this collection of periodicals reflects a variety of movements and ideologies on the political left. These include Marxist, socialist, communist, social democratic, and Fabianist publications, addressing key topics and events such as labor history/workers' rights, international socialism, anti-Nazi movements, Red Scares, class struggles, campaigns/legislation, and youth radicalism.

LATINX HISTORY

Latinx Thought and Culture: The NPR Archive, 1979–1990

COMING IN Q1 2023! This collection showcases two radio programs: the weekly Spanish-language Enfoque Nacional (1979–1988) and the daily English-language Latin File (1988–1990), available for the first time in a searchable database as digitized audio with transcripts. They focus on Latinx issues related to politics, sociology, human rights, the arts and more with interviews of key figures and news reporting by a new generation of Latino/a journalists at the time.

History Vault: Bexar Archives: Colonial Archives of Texas during the Spanish and Mexican Periods, 1717–1836

COMING IN Q4 2023! From 1717 through 1836, the governments of Spain and Mexico collected in San Antonio de Bexar (when that city was the capital of Texas under Spanish and Mexican rule) an amazing series of official documents detailing the military, civilian, and political life of the Spanish province of Texas and the Mexican state of Coahuila y Texas. These records, which have become known as the Bexar Archives, constitute the most complete and detailed primary source in existence for the study of colonial Texas. Having formerly worked together on a microfilm version, now, in cooperation with the Center for American History at the University of Texas at Austin, ProQuest is digitizing the Bexar Archives in History Vault. This collection consists of 250,000 pages of manuscript documentation and more than 4,000 pages of printed material on colonial and regional history.

The scope of the documentation contained in the Bexar Archives is as vast as the territory whose affairs it recorded. The earliest documents deal mainly with the affairs of the Canary Island settlers, religious matters, and relations with Native Americans. At the opening of the 19th century, friction along the Texas-Louisiana border, Anglo-American incursions, smuggling, and troubles over Indian raids and atrocities become prominent topics. The Mexican revolution of 1810, with its counterpart in Texas the following year, is vividly recorded, as are the Gutierrez-Magee invasion of 1812–1813, the battle of Medina in 1813, the Champ D'Asile incident in 1818, Dr. Long's expedition in 1819, the coming of Moses Austin in 1820, the Mexican independent regime in 1821, the Fredonian Rebellion in Nacogdoches in 1827, and, finally, the independence of Texas in 1836. In addition to covering the high points of Texas history, it also documents virtually all aspects of life in Spanish and Mexican Texas.

MILITARY & DIPLOMATIC HISTORY

DNSA: The Afghanistan War and the U.S., 1998–2017

NEW! Covering the key periods of the 20-year U.S. war in Afghanistan, this timely collection provides researchers with a trove of revealing primary documents, chiefly from the Bush and Obama years. Largely the product of decades of Freedom of Information Act requests and appeals, these records obtained from the State Department, CENTCOM, the Defense Intelligence Agency, and other agencies detail many of the problems that bedeviled the American-led occupation, including reconstruction efforts, diplomatic relations with the Afghan government, Pakistan's double-sided games, Taliban-al Qaeda relations, corruption, and narcotics.

DNSA: Targeting Iraq, Part II: War and Occupation, 2004–2011

COMING IN Q2 2023! Comprised of some 2,200 documents dating primarily from the conclusion in 2004 of the Coalition Provisional Authority's administration of Iraq, thus restoring Baghdad's titular sovereignty, through the 2011 U.S. military withdrawal, this collection covers efforts to reestablish Iraqi security and stability and restore a functioning economy and system of governance following decades of regional conflict, sanctions, invasion, and occupation. Topics include U.S. efforts to suppress violence arising from resistance to its presence in Iraq and from competition for power and monetary advantage; and Washington's attempts to influence Iraq's political and economic decision-making including leadership choices, the adoption of a new constitution, privatization, and oil legislation. The documents address military strategy, as well as political and human rights issues such as prisoner abuse, contracting and contractor malfeasance, misspent resources, corruption, and the divergence between American objectives on one side and Iraqi realities and the outlook of its people on the other.

History Vault: Confidential U.S. State Department and Diplomatic Post Special Files, Asia, 1945–1966

COMING IN Q2 2023! The Confidential U.S. State Department "Special" or "Lot" Files represent a rich source for students of American foreign policy. Focusing on political affairs, economic conditions, and policy positions, these documents complement the State Department Central Files and form a foundation for in-depth study of international affairs. Maintained by various State Department offices, bureaus, committees, and individuals, the Special Files hold a vast amount of unique material not preserved in the Central Files. They provide an especially valuable source for working papers, annotated memoranda, verbatim transcripts, drafts, and other informal material. Further, the Special Files often contain documents State Department officials considered too sensitive or important to forward to the general Central Files. The set of State Department and Diplomatic Post records covers the U.S. occupation of Japan following World War II, development of postwar Japan, the San Francisco Peace Conference of 1951, and economic conditions in Japan; the Korean War, peace negotiations, U.S.-Korea relations, and the rebuilding of South Korea after the end of fighting in the Korean War; military and economic relations between Japan, Korea, and the U.S. in the 1950s; ANZUS treaty talks with Australia and New Zealand; Nationalist and anti-colonial resistance movements in Vietnam, Indonesia, and Malaya; and efforts to establish a Southeast Asia Treaty Organization.

History Vault: Joint Chiefs of Staff in the Early Cold War, 1946–1960

COMING IN Q2 2023! As the principal group of military advisers to the president of the United States, the Joint Chiefs of Staff (JCS) is arguably the most important body of military leaders in the world. Records of the Joint Chiefs of Staff in the Early Cold War contains the formerly classified and secret proposals that, when approved by the president, became the military and foreign policies of the United States. These records offer a behind-the-scenes view of the highest levels of U.S. military decision-making. The reports in this module were written by hundreds of JCS staff members—experts in fields ranging from Chinese defense strategy to U.S. military counterintelligence.

The records of the Joint Chiefs of Staff for 1946-1960 cover the early years of the Cold War, focusing on the threat of Soviet expansion, Europe and NATO, the Chinese Civil War, the Korean War, the beginnings of the nuclear arms race, and the Arab-Israeli conflict and other developments in the Middle East, especially regarding Middle East oil and Iran.

DNSA: U.S. Foreign Policy in the Carter Years, 1977-1981: Highest-Level Memos to the President

COMING IN Q4 2023! This unusual collection of highest-level foreign policy materials from the Jimmy Carter administration features every declassified daily or weekly memo to the president from National Security Advisor Zbigniew Brzezinski and from Secretaries of State Cyrus Vance and Edmund Muskie; as well as every available meeting record of the National Security Council's two subgroups – the Policy Review Committee and the Special Coordination Committee. Many of the records have the president's own handwritten notations. Topics cover the gamut of foreign policy issues during this pivotal period, notably the conflict in the Middle East, the Iran hostage crisis, the Soviet invasion of Afghanistan, SALT talks with Moscow, the opening of diplomatic relations with China, the Nicaraguan revolution, energy, and a growing U.S. emphasis on global human rights.

THE PROBLEM

1. To prepare a recommendation, for the consideration of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, of the U.S. military forces which may be allocated to the North Atlantic Ocean Region (NAOR) as of 1 September 1950 for use in the development of a short-term plan for defense of the NAOR.

FACTS BEARING ON THE PROBLEM AND DISCUSSION

2. On 4 January 1950, the Standing Group of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization issued a directive to the Regional Planning Groups* which called for the preparation of short-term plans for the defense of the regional areas with forces likely to be available on 1 September 1950 (to be submitted 1 September 1950).

U.S. HISTORY

History Vault: American Jewish Congress Records: Administrative and Executive Committee, Governing Council, National Conventions, and Executive Director Files

COMING IN Q3 2023! The American Jewish Congress, founded in 1918 under the leadership of Louis Brandeis, Felix Frankfurter, and Rabbi Stephen S. Wise, is one of the most important organizations dedicated to advocating for the interests of the American Jewish community and defending the civil rights of all Americans. The American Jewish Congress Records span from 1915-2009 and document the American Jewish Congress's impact on the United States legal system, civil rights and liberties, the fight against discrimination and antisemitism, and support for the State of Israel. The records of the American Jewish Congress are digitized by ProQuest from the holdings of the American Jewish Historical Society. This module represents the first seven series of the collection, covering the history of the American Jewish Congress, the proceedings of its governing committees, the files of the Executive Directors, and records of the organization's national conventions.

History Vault: Americans for Democratic Action Records

NEW! At a conference of prominent American liberals and labor leaders held in New York City on May 9-10, 1941, the Union for Democratic Action (UDA) was formally organized, with James Loeb Jr. as executive secretary, Reinhold Niebuhr as national chairman, and Frank Kingdon as president. The purpose of the new organization was to initiate a two-front fight against fascism, both at home and abroad. After World War II and the November 1946 elections, James Loeb Jr., national director of UDA, joined by Leon Henderson, Wilson W. Wyatt, Hubert H. Humphrey, and others, called for a convention of democratic progressives to meet in Washington, D.C., on January 4, 1947. Two days later, they formed Americans for Democratic Action (ADA) with James Loeb Jr. as national executive secretary. Among the ADA founders were Wilson Wyatt, first national chairman, Leon Henderson, Hubert H. Humphrey, Eleanor Roosevelt, Joseph P. Lash, Will Rogers Jr., Joseph L. Rauh Jr., Walter Reuther, James B. Carey, David Dubinsky, Walter White, Reinhold Niebuhr, and Herbert H. Lehman.

WOMEN'S HISTORY

Woman and Social Movements in the U.S., 2023 edition

COMING IN Q2 2023! Exploring the multiplicity of women's activism in American public life, this collection is organized around document projects. Each is a scholarly work that links an interpretive essays to 30 or more related primary documents. Four new document projects are added every year, book reviews, roundtables and other features. Two additional modules will be released in the spring and fall with the 2023 annual update. The titles and descriptions will be made available soon.

PROQUEST HISTORICAL NEWSPAPERS

Historical International Newspapers: London Evening Standard

NEW! A London-based paper, with influence nationally and throughout the commonwealth, the London Evening Standard focused on the social narrative of and for the man on the street, with the generalized perspective of the national titles, alongside the raw, first-impression coverage of international events from correspondents placed all over the world, and breaking national political news well before the national papers hit the streets the following day.

Historical Black Newspapers: Kansas City Call (1919–2010)

COMING IN Q2 2023! This Black weekly newspaper was founded in 1919 to provide leadership for the Black community. It quickly became one of the most successful Black newspapers in the U.S. covering civil rights issues and fighting segregation, discrimination, and other important issues of the African American community. The paper has a strong history of encouraging African Americans to register and vote and of covering many key Black issues including school segregation and urban development. The Kansas City Call fought to have Blacks serve on Kansas City juries and called for a reduction of violence within Black communities. It was the first African American newspaper to become an International News Service member in 1948 when it subscribed to one of the major wire services.

Historical International Newspapers: The Observer Magazine (1964–2003)

COMING IN Q2 2023! Stretching back to 1964 and representing the heyday of Fleet Street feature publishing, creative advertising and photography, this archive is a rich source of historical and cultural journalistic content. Published as part of The Observer, The Observer Magazine features everything from interviews with A-list stars to moving and inspirational personal stories and social issues. Leading columnists of the day offer words of wit and wisdom, interspersed with stunning photo-reportage from around the world. This collection pairs well with the Historical International Newspapers: The Guardian and The Observer.

Historical International Newspapers: ABC (Spain) (1903–2010)

COMING IN Q4 2023! First published in Madrid in 1903, ABC is the oldest newspaper still operating in Madrid, the second largest newspaper in Spain, and one of three newspapers of record in Spain. It has always been considered the most well written among Spanish newspapers with many great writers and intellectuals contributing over the years. Politically, ABC is known for supporting the Spanish monarchy and for its conservative political views. The newspaper uses extensive photography and was the first European newspaper to use photo engraving. ABC has a dedicated foreign bureau and offers considerable editorial space to foreign news, and coverage of the arts and Spanish culture.

Historical U.S. Standalone Newspapers: Barron's (1921–2010)

COMING IN Q1 2023! Founded by Clarence Barron a successful Boston journalist and subsequent owner of Dow Jones & Company, Barron's Magazine has been a leading U.S. weekly since 1921. Barron, considered the founder of modern financial journalism, created his magazine after his aggressive and in-depth coverage of Charles Ponzi which led to the schemer's unraveling and conviction. His intense approach to find the financial truth paved the way for closer scrutiny of corporate financial information and thus made his magazine required reading for investors and financiers. Barron's reports financial news, in-depth analysis and commentary on stocks and investments. It reflects on how markets moved across the world the previous week and provides outlook and reports on the week ahead.

Historical Newspapers: The Complete U.S. State Collection

COMING IN Q4 2023! This product will provide access to all the nearly 140 papers available in the individual State collections and will include an enhanced ability to browse and discover. These newspapers will provide key insights into local news, events, and politics. They will show how national and international events are covered at the local level. And, like all local papers, they will provide vital information including birth, marriage, and death announcements.

ANTHROPOLOGY

Contemporary Anthropology: Archaeology

COMING IN Q3 2023! Archaeology has a history rooted in colonialism and the plunder of antiquities from the global south. This collection will bring together archival and textual material relating to archaeological excavations, methods, and practices done in the late 20th century to present day. It will help students debate ethical practices in archaeology, who owns the past, as well as contemporary field methods and analysis. The core archive featured will be the Cusichaca Archaeological Project (CAP) led by Ann Kendall who did numerous excavations in the Peruvian Andes from 1980s–2010s. Additional topics covered are: 3D Imaging, bioarcheology, maritime archaeology, paleoecology, lithic technology, rock art, colonialism, repatriation, cultural heritage, and more.

GENDER STUDIES

LGBT Magazine Archive, Volume II

NEW! This module expands the LGBT Magazine Archive program with the backfiles of over 20 additional titles. Magazines of this type are among the principal sources of documentation on LGBTQ+ cultures, lives, and events but back issues have not typically been collected by university libraries. Collection 2 will include titles produced for a variety of readerships and LGBTQ+ communities, including, for example, African-American, lesbian feminist, bisexual and atheist. Publication types range from lifestyle publications, news titles, and leisure/travel guides, to journals aimed at a professional audience. As well as further U.S. and U.K. publications, Collection 2 extends the international coverage with some titles from mainland Europe. With content from the 1960s through to 2020, this collection will shed light on key topics such as health, lifestyle, politics, social attitudes, law, activism, LGBTQ+ rights, arts and literature.

LGBT Studies in Video, Volume II

NEW! Building off the first volume of LGBT Studies in Video, this curated selection of LGBTQ+ videos cover various topics from Trans rights to AIDS activism to the intersectionality of gender identity and race. One of our primary partners for this collection is Frameline, a nonprofit media organization that produces the San Francisco International LGBT Film Festival, the oldest film festival devoted to lesbian, gay, bisexual, and transgender programming currently in existence.

Queer Pasts, 2023 Exhibits

COMING IN Q2 2023! Queer Pasts is a collection of primary source exhibits for students and scholars of queer history and culture. The database uses “queer” in its broadest and most inclusive sense, to embrace topics that are gay, lesbian, bisexual, and transgender and to include work on sexual and gender formations that are queer but not necessarily LGBT. Each of the document collections in the database includes a critical introductory essay that helps explain the significance of the primary sources in historical terms and in relation to previous scholarship.

The 2023 release will include six additional exhibits. Exhibits will cover queer suffrage, queer student organizing, Black gay men, HIV, cultural production, and more. Detailed exhibit descriptions coming soon.

GLOBAL STUDIES

Contemporary Global Issues in Video

COMING IN Q2 2023! This new addition to the Global Issues Library covers recently made films that expand on existing themes within all the existing collections. Topics include, but are not limited to, the status of refugee camps in Europe, child trafficking, identity, and LGBTQ+, human rights issues in Afghanistan, Colombia, and Brazil, post-conflict support, everything is connected, plastic and a world without bees; anti-corruption movements; human bombs and cyborgs; and many more topics.

Trade and Globalization

COMING IN Q2 2023! This collection will look at the main themes and events related to economic history by providing multiple perspectives and points of entries. The themes cover global fashion, history of trade, trade and politics, geographic trading flashpoints, trading players, global banking and protest.

ProQuest Diversity Collection (Content Updates)

Diversity Collection is a full-text database with more than 1,200 publications, providing users with critical viewpoints and content often left out of mainstream sources. Inclusive and user-friendly, the resource combines three unique full-text databases: Ethnic NewsWatch, GenderWatch, and Alt-PressWatch.

Over 480 videos have recently been added to the Diversity Collection. The videos complement the important topics covered in the full text across all 3 collections. Some of the film publishers include: Inuit Broadcasting Corporation; California Newsreel; Blue Sky Project; and the WGBH Educational Foundation.

We have also recently added over 60 full text scholarly journals as well as magazines and newspapers across a wide range of DEI areas. Titles include Gothamist newspaper (New York Public Radio), Women's Fightback (Alliance for Workers' Liberty), Queer Studies in Media & Popular Culture (Intellect Ltd.) and more.

Visual History Archive (New UI)

Since January 2022, we have added over 580 new testimonies and over 1,500 new transcripts to the Visual History Archive. With the launch of the newly redesigned platform, USC Shoah Foundation released many key features and benefits including:

- Researchers will find multiple pathways into the search functions, alongside an overview of the archive's collections and a rotating series of spotlights.
- The new testimony viewing screen emphasizes playback and segment access while keeping key biographical details available above the fold.
- The search tools have been reimagined and consolidated and all pathways into the archive are centralized from the same screen. Also, discover related keywords as you type in the search bar.
- To search by location, simply draw a circle on the map to discover all clips of testimony that reference locations within the circle.
- With the citation generator, you can now auto-generate testimony citations for all common citation standards.

POLITICAL SCIENCE & PUBLIC POLICY

Supreme Court Insight: 1897–1932

NEW! The comprehensive collection offers researchers a single location for discovery of Supreme Court dockets, complete opinions, joint appendices and briefs, including those filed by amicus curiae. This user-friendly interface makes it possible to narrow searches within a specific case on a dynamic page. These case compilation pages are organized to maximize understanding of judicial process and to help users quickly identify content in Petition, Merit, and Resolution stages. The original module covers 1975–2016, with updates available separately. Historic modules include 1933–1974 and 1897–1932, which launched on 11/28.

Trends & Policy: U.S. Environment

NEW! This collection explores how human interaction with the environment is changed by government policies. It merges content from a variety of sources and presents them in a unique interface designed to connect various environmental policies of the United States to their trending results. Curated Topic Pages covers such areas as the Clean Air Act, the Endangered Species Act of 1973, fracking and the production of oil and gas, Native Americans, natural resources, pollution, health, and more.

ProQuest Executive Branch Documents Great Series and Reports, Part 1

COMING IN Q4 2023! This is the first module of a new program available on ProQuest Congressional which will offer Federal agency annual reports and other clearly defined Executive Branch series and periodicals, as well as selected monographs with significant research value. Content selection will focus on executive branch documents which have value for teaching, learning, and research when searched in conjunction with legislative branch materials. Every effort will be made to offer a complete run of each series so the user will be able to begin with current content and then go back in time to add context, and to offer newly digitized mid-twentieth century in cases where the content has not been digitized. Where possible, the content will bridge the gap between historic content in our existing Executive Branch historic collections and recent content going up to the present.

Supreme Court Insight Certiorari Denied, Part 3, 1954–1974

COMING IN Q4 2023! Each year, approximately 7,000–8,000 new cases are filed in the Supreme Court, but the Court agrees to hear only about 80 of those cases. The paid cases for which certiorari is denied—the cases not heard—are the cases included in our Cert Denied collection. This is the third module in our Cert Denied program. Sometimes the Court will continue to deny petitions on the same topic over a period of time before a case is finally accepted. Research on cert denied cases might examine the petition language, topics, court of origin, role of certain organizations, attorneys, and Justices, as well as allow users with access to our heard case content to compare the denied cases to similar cases which were accepted. Denied case content includes dockets and petition stage briefs, including amicus briefs.

Trends & Policy: U.S. Criminal Justice

COMING IN Q4 2023! This collection merges content from a variety of sources and presents them in a unique interface designed to connect various criminal justice policies of the United States to their trending results. Included in this extensive module are all criminal justice-related public laws and hearings, Legislative branch reports, Executive branch reports and data, press releases, and present-day and historical news articles. The design of the product includes timelines, contextual topic pages for laws, concepts, and events, and rekeyed statistical content that allows researchers to work with the data.

RELIGION & PHILOSOPHY

Twentieth Century Religious Thought Library: Volume V, Religion in Video

COMING IN Q2 2023! This addition to the Twentieth Century Religious Thought Library will be a video collection covering various global religions including Christianity, Islam, Judaism, Buddhism, and more. It will discuss how different faith and belief systems intertwines with our daily life, from navigating personal relationships to contemplating our mortality and processing death. Other topics include sacred spaces, worship, art, fashion in religion, and the challenges of practicing faith in the modern world.
